Roster of heads of families in 1790, so far as can be shown from records of the Census office. The returns for Delaware, Georgia, Kentucky, New Jersey, Tennessee and Virginia were destroyed by fire in 1814. As the federal census schedules of the state of Virginia for 1790 are missing, the lists of the state enumerations made in 1782, 1783, 1784, and 1785, while not complete, have been substituted. cf. Introd. in vol. for Virginia, Pennsylvania, etc.

U. S. Civilian conservation corps.

The Civilian conservation corps was created by act of Congress approved June 28, 1937 (Public, no. 163, 75th Cong.) succeeding and continuing the work of the independent agency known as Emergency conservation work which was established by Executive order no. 6101, dated April 5, 1933.

From April 5, 1933, to July 1, 1937, the Emergency conservation work was popularly known as the Civilian conservation corps. By the aforementioned act of June 28, 1937, effective July 1, 1937, the popular name was officially adopted as the legal designation of the organization. The corps has been a continuously functioning organization, therefore, since April 5, 1933.

For convenience of reference, the name Civilian conservation corps has been adopted as a heading by the Library of Congress for publications of both the Emergency conservation work and of its successor, the Civilian conservation corps.
